Determination of Partnership Eligibility

EssentiallTC policies issued in one of these states will automatically be issued as a partnership policy if the applicant(s) is a resident of the partnership state being applied for, and the following inflation protection requirements are met::

- Issue Age 75 or younger, an inflation protection option must be selected.
- Issue age 76 to 79, no inflation protection required (will be issued as a partnership policy).

Note: Under a joint application, the inflation protection requirement for a Partnership-Qualified policies will be based upon the younger applicant's issue age.

Partnership information for Existing (Active) policies issued in these states

We are in the process of reviewing state guidelines for the partnership exchanges, with additional information to be provided once the timeline for the exchanges has been identified. In general, any active policies in these states with application dates prior to July 27, 2018 that meet the inflation protection requirements above will be considered for an exchange if the policy issue state and the applicants residents states match.
